I agree with Jack, JayL, and shipnfish as to why I don't post anymore. I fish mostly smaller ANF streams that many would get cranky about me posting. Almost all wild, with some natives. I can see there point...in the 25+ trips to PA took last year I saw only a handful of other fisherman total, excluding my trip to the yough. The trout caught outnumbered the fisherman seen by at least 10 to 1, and I had very few double digit fish days.

That being said, I have seen some sites where they limit the stream report viewing to logged in users and one with a section that is limite dto registered, logging in users with at least 50 posts. Tends to cut down on the paranoia.
