Headed up to "the" Pine in early November w/ a friend who just started to fly fish. Taking him out for a day on the big waters. I have a few spots in mind (obviously down in the Slate Run area). One section I have never fished was right through the canyon. Anyone have any experience there? He's a hiker, so is another friend who's taking along w/ us, I thought it might be fun to load up a couple back packs and hike our way down the Turkey Trail, fish the bottom a little bit, then hike back up.
