

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : The Pine:Bottom of the Canyon

Re: The Pine:Bottom of the Canyon

Author: : Swattie87

Date: : 2012/10/26 11:07:38

URL:

If you're hiking down, you might as well take the rod is my take...only gonna add a few ounces to the weight. I stopped and took a look along Little Four Mile Run for some Brookies but didn't see any...it's on the nat repro list though, and makes a few nice pools on the way down. I didn't have a rod with me (was hiking time with my wife not and fishing time, as was explained to me), but if I did I woulda tossed a bug or two in there. Pine at the bottom is Pine at the bottom...we caught plenty of Smallies down by Tiadaghton in September, no trout though.