Love2Fish,

The Salmon River has been running 1000 cfs in prep for storm for a few days now. Most of the salmon that have died will be flushed out to the lake. IMHO you would be better off with egg patterns, stonefly nymphs, caddis larva also Marabou/Popsicle style patterns.

Another choice would be and is my favorite ...Swinging Hairwing Wets and Speyflies . BTW Buggers and egg sucking buggers and leeches also work really well. Substituting rabbit strips also makes those even more effective.

Good Luck, look forward to your report when you get back.
