I need to buy some new tippet material - mostly 5x - but I am going to replace all 3 of my most used rolls, 4x, 5x, 6x.

That got me thinking about what is your favorite brand of tippet material? I have been mostly using Cortland brand bought at someplace like Wally world or Dicks Sporting Goods. While fishing a sulpher dry last Thursday I thought this brand was too stiff and I would like to try something different. I am leaning towards the Rio brand, but what about Frog Hair and the others? They have to be able to make a difference on total/overall presentation of the fly to the fish.

thanks...
