Haven't fished for brookies in 25+ years so I can't comment. The 3wt would be used at BS where the fish could be large or on the Tully where it's usually light tippets and an occasional big fish. I got it years ago for 1/2 price and thought the number on the reel was the same as the line # it held. I expected to get a 4 or 5 line on it but it's overflowing with 30 yds of backing and et 3 line. It's lucky to see daylight twice a year. Got a regular spool and mid arbor spool. Want to buy it?
