let me start by saying thank you for all the great replies and info. What I meant by fishing from my float is: I have a Creek Company ODC sport Pontoon with a 30lbs thrust trolling motor.

I think I will be heading up to Cabelas for my rod, I used to live not to far from there about a year ago so I won't get lost. I think Ill head up next week and try to hit Scott's run lake that same day to try and learn a bit about how to use these rods. I like the idea of the 9' 6wt rod. I fish alot for small mouth and would really like to catch a few on the fly, I think the 6wt will give me a little more confidence with such a feisty fish and from what I have read here and else where is that the longer rods are more forgiving with newbs :)

Thank you all again

Bob
