

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : New to the Sport

Re: New to the Sport

Author: : troutbert

Date: : 2007/1/27 23:25:25

URL:

I don't think a pontoon boat will be suitable for the streams you mentioned, which are small. It should work great on the Schuylkill, the Delaware, the Susque and lakes. If you are going to be fishing that kind of big water a lot, than the 9 foot 6 weight sounds like a good choice.

And you can certainly fish those streams you mentioned with that outfit. When I began flyfishing a 6 weight was considered a standard trout weight.