Hey guys...I have some bad news which I hope one of you is willing to make good...I was up in Erie today for some fishing and left one stream to go to another...since it was a short drive I didn't put my rod in its case...just took it apart and placed it in the back of my car...well..during the drive the top portion of my rod somehow got stuck between my back seats and snapped :(...fortunately my rod like many others is under warranty...however I don't know how long it will take for it to get back to me...I really don't want to miss the JAM this year....so what I'm asking is if anyone has an old/extra rod I can borrow...I know its a stretch and not an easy thing to ask...but its between that or missing the JAM completely for me....I will use my reel and my flies...just need a rod
