::Sigh::: December can not come soon enough. I would have loved to win this again. However, I have classes that week. I would skip my classes if I did not have so much work towards the end of the semester. Anyways, my wife and children absolutely loved Harman's and they have been bugging me to go back. My mother saw all the pictures and heard us rave about it the last time down, and she now wants to come down.

Whomever wins this you will just fall in love with the scenery, accommodations, and fishing! You will not be disappointed in taking this trip. Even the drive down is wonderful.

I am praying there is a December give away, because it would be amazing with some snow on the ground.

Good luck everybody!
