What: Western PA Wild Trout and Sandwich Symposium No. 4

When: Sometime after start of new year. In the past it has been on Sat. afternoons in early Feb.

Where: Primanti's (Most likely the Cranberry location)

Who: All yinz doods.

Now taking suggestions on altering the above and picking a weekend that works for most.

Here's what happens at this event. You show up. Find the other misfits. Eat, drink, and have a damn good time. Also, bring a copy of the Delorme gazeteer if you have it because we typically talk about places you won't hear about online and aren't well known. Also, lots of good conversation on the central PA streams and Erie steel.

At past WPWTSS we've usually had around a dozen or so guys show up. Primanti's doesn't reserve tables but we haven't had much trouble being seated as a group by scheduling this around 1:00 PM or so.

Have at 'er.
