First here's a report from the Oak for last week (video) http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pQ_5msOqFJc&feature=youtu.be The rooms are above the fly shop and have a shared bathroom and 1 TV in a common area. This is called "The Licorice Lounge" as the owner of the shop's nickname is the Licorice Man. When I stayed there, a couple of yrs. ago, you removed a piece of plexiglass from the floor vent to let heat up into the bathroom. This is the leftover heat from the fly shop. If you give The Licorice Man (Ron) cash for your room, you will save a little.
