How big was he compared to the fly? I've caught small muskies on flies that were almost as long as they were.

Never even measured the fish...I would say it was mid-20"s tops. So the fly was probably at least 1/4 of its body length. Tis the season to fatten up!

On the vise/hook size issue...I almost forgot that I broke my starter vise when transitioning to bigger hooks (saltwater flies as well...not just musky). Was just the wrong tool for the job (I'll add that I haven't had a single problem with my replacement).

Just something to be aware of.
