The hurricane washed a lot of them down, and I always suspect poaching. I'm going to start making it a goal of mine to try and see when this goes on, being so close, but I don't have a whole lot of time to do it. If you see any of the poaching going on, call Fish and Boat and get their license plate number and fishing license number (if they have one).

And to clarify, it was not float stocked this past October.
