So I did a lil research with the links some of you guys sent and realized I'm going to take a mapography 101 @ my local community college 😊 Have an idea where some of the streams on the maps are but have to figure out how to locate the exact GPS (lat/logitude) coordinates.

That said .. on my own research did a lil research on line and found a few creeks online and a way to find access points and parking. Looks like I'm going to need to invest in some orange during hunting season 😬
