Can someone explain how to use those latitude & longitude numbers in Google Maps or other mapping sites to find the location?

I've done this before, but I tried it this time and got somewhere around Mongolia, so I reversed the order of the numbers and tried again and got somewhere up around Greenland.

Copy and paste these numbers: 40.858233,-77.810731 in Google maps and click on "search" and the exact location will magically appear.
