I was looking at the list last week, I'm glad Mike posted it because the list isn't well know. I also tried to put in the Longitude and Latitude, but when I hit enter it took me to central Asia. I then put in the negative for the longitude and it put me at the mouth of the creek I was looking at.

Kudos to PFBC for listing these streams, is the list out for comments yet, cause that's what I was looking for last week.

I have a question about the list I have call Streams that are unsurveyed and may have brook trout. My question is who should I send comments to, I know of at least 20 that I've fished that do have brookies.
