Thanks man. I definitely decided on NC, and I'm almost 100% sure I'll be camping at Cataloochee. I just need to pick the dates that I'm going. Already figured out the mileage and estimate of gas costs, NC non residential FL/trout stamp, and campground costs. The links provided above were a great help. I'm very excited, and I believe my dad is in on this trip. If we can get my brother to go yet, this will be a classic Squatch Family outing.

I really appreciate all the feedback though, and please keep the tips coming. I love that this site can give me info on stuff like this, as well as PA info.
