We just had our first child a month ago today. With a brief stay in the NICU we all all doing well (with little sleep :) Her name is Logan and I wanted to do a give away here since you guys have all been good to me over the years.

If someone can guess the birth weight correct the reel is yours. Were going to do more of these from time to time as well.

Just reply with a guess and I'll pick the first one who guesses correct. Also, we are releasing a new color soon. Here is a sneak peek if this might be the color you would like.
