wgmiller .. my only rod I have is the same in a 9' 6 weight and I'm happy with it tho I am to inexperienced to really tell the difference excluding weight and loading. I handled a few others but there was no way for me to cast them. Kinda leaves me at a disadvantage on testing any out so I am going with the info and recommendations I received in this thread to go along with how much i want to $pend.

Do other shops rig up rods so you can actually cast and feel them out?
