Last month 5ringsbl and I made what probably will become an annual trip in pursuit of shallow water species. This year we opted to charter a trip out of St. Petersburg with Captain Pat Damico of Fly Guy Charters. Pat is a native of Hazelton, Pa. and has become one of the go to Guides for fly fishing in lower Tampa Bay. November is traditionally a transition month in Florida as cold front manage to push south dropping temperatures and chasing fish out of their usual haunts. That was the case on this trip. What started as a Thursday trip was moved to Friday by strong winds and cold air. Here are a few pictures of our outing. GG
