Love2fish,

You are right about the smallie decline on the Delaware but I don't think it's the same issue as the Susquehanna. Interestingly the trout and striper population seems to be higher the past few years.

After several emails with ppl that are very active with Delaware River conservation they did confirm disease that is affecting populations not sure if that the only factor or a contributing factor but very concerning. I have also seen where those f*#%ing birds a an invasive species but we are not allowed to kill them. It just worries me and a group of friends that basically live in the river.
