

---

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : Gallatin River

Re: Gallatin River

Author: : pete41

Date: : 2012/12/21 8:07:36

URL:

I lived five miles away for 30 years.

Seldom fished it after the first five as Yellowstone and Madison are both within 20 miles.

However the part up the canyon[south ] would be a very comfortable place to fish for someone use to Pa. waters. Very pretty up there also.

The bigger rivers can be a little intimidating and frustrating for first timers.

If you have local friends by all means try them all.

plus trips to the Gallatin can be fun and some really beautiful lakes up the Canyon.

you will enjoy-sounds like you will be there for salmon fly hatch.