FYI. I found this posted on another site. I don't know the poster, or how true it is, but keep an eye out. I hope it's not true, or very isolated.

"Went out of Goldsboro on 6/7 and thought it was strange that there was a 14" bass squashed on the ramp. Chalked it up to someone being an idiot. As I went around I kept seeing a floater here and there, all reasonable size fish. When I got to the grass by the last island there must have been 50 floating in the slack water. Any ideas about what is going on? Anybody see that in other parts of the river?"
