waste is filtered out of the water GeeBee, It never gets in the water..then the filtered waste is utilized after composting in small farm vegetable farms. The water that enters is almost pristine.

If its almost pristine why would it contravene pfbc rules ?

Is this an area where local TU's could Donate their time and money and expertise to add a further filter, I wonder ?

Good to hear that they have their own water too.

There must be a solution to this, it can't be the only hatchery on a wild trout stream in the nation ?
