The quitty had a fall stocking some small fish. I don't think there is many fish left in it it gets poached in the park area. That being said I always catch a couple there. I think I may have caught that brown earlier. Upstream of bridge, about 18-19". I live less than 2 min away so I get to fish it quite a bit. The flood sure changed that stream. Lost a few nice holes.

I tried to post the pic of the brown but the file is too big
