Congratulations for being recognized as one of the best. That is not surpriseng to those of us that have enjoyed a few days down there already. Harman's is absolutely the best. I have already began planning with friends a trip down there in the spring. My wife and kids bug me all the time to travel back down. However, when my wife heard that I was making plans with a few friends and not her to enjoy some fishing, she did not take to that very well. She has been begging me to let her come, she said she would cook the whole time for us. lol

Anyways, I am available to travel down those dates, as I have a break from college. Would be nice to take my two boys back down with the snow being on the ground.
