I see this as a 4 page attempt at getting me to lower my price on the super sweet Abel Super 8 I have posted in the swap. Honestly, I am selling it because I just don't need that kind of reel for PA bass and carp. If I still got to fish salt much, I would have it spooled up already.

I love how the Lamson Konic has everyone screaming bargain...but isn't a $130 trout reel also overkill here in PA?

I could get by with a used cavalier, a dollar store watch, wal mart shoes, etc...but I like the way quality stuff looks, feels, tastes.

Is an Abel reel worth $750++? Not to me, but definitely is to alot of people.

I do love my Element, though.
