So put outsider down as 4 volunteers!

Despite outsider's accidental multiple posts (that got removed), this still isn't far from the truth. That guy really knows his stuff!

Shane - might be a good thing to do a brief casting session before we hit the water. We'll split the group in two, you take one group, I'll take the other. If you can, bring your 6wt - I'll have a leader for you so you don't booger up a good one. Might as well start the kids out with some good casting fundamentals.

DD - This came up last minute, or I would have planned it around your ability to attend. Soon....

Fox - This is a walk in the park for you. I promise not to put any downed branches in your way. 😊
Some lucky kid is gonna get some great instruction - you might get assigned more than one...
