

---

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Big Spring Creek, Cumberland County, 1/3/13

Re: Big Spring Creek Fishing Report 3 Jan 13

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2013/1/4 9:21:01

URL:

Airborne,

Welcome to the Paff forums - thanks for the report. There was a Big Spring fishing report from just a couple weeks ago. Yes, the stream is difficult. BS is heavily fished by our readership and is frequently discussed on this forum (as well as the other Cumberland Valley streams). If you wish to search past threads, it's best to use the "Advanced Search" button in the lower right of the webpage. Now that you have your 2013 license, hang out with us here online and you'll get plenty of PA fishing motivation. 😊

The bridge isn't washed out but was torn down for repairs. I walked that section with a friend on New Year's day. Please be aware the brooks are spawning in that area of BS right now (this is much later than when they spawn in most of PA) - please watch your step and be respectful of spawners.

Also, we're a bit picky about format here in Stream Reports: please include in the title line the Name/County/Date format as can be seen (I fixed it). This is not a big deal and we're not trying to discourage your report - we have to tell most new posters about this requirement (happened to me too when I posted my first fishing report).

Again, welcome Airbornedoc!