He says he holds the rod in his right hand. If you could bring a rod for him that would be wonderful, because he just told me the rod he has is an 8 wt.

He shouldn't tread on you, he's a big guy, but if there are any problems tell either Mr. Schaffer or myself. These boys (and girl if she shows up) have been given a ton of gear and supplies and are now presented with an opportunity of a life time. If they react to that with disrespect or anything else along those lines there will be consequences, obviously. But that shouldn't happen.

I'll bring a rod for him to use. The "tread on me" part was only in jest.

I figured it was, but it is just in case. If anyone has a problem with any club members please feel free to tell either Mr. Schaffer or myself. But like I said before, I doubt it will happen. We have a very passionate, eager-to-learn group.
