Well, I have every intention of being there, but there may be a problem. My truck failed to start 2 times in the last 4 days and I called my mechanic this morning, assuming he could fix it this week (sounds like the fuel pump, doesn't happen every time I try to start it). Problem is, he may not be able to repair it this week. He told me to drop it off on Thursday and he will see if he can fit it in Thursday or Friday.

That being said, if he doesn't fix it this week, I'm probably going to chance it on Saturday because I don't want to miss this event.
