Fishidiot, How is it possible to find the spine on a 4 piece rod when the only piece that has any flex to it is the tip section? I'm getting ready to start my first rod, a 6'6" 2 wt.

i'm not him but a trick i use is my washer and the concrete floor beside it. and a piece of paper towel on the floor to not hurt the rod. but that's two solid sides, and i find my palm can be to soft sometimes.
