Not to thread jack or anything. But can you say, put a tippet ring at the end of a 9' leader for example, then add say 2 feet of tippet to your fly? Will the tippet ring cause surface drag?

Your fly probably won't roll over as nicely because you'll be messing with transfer of energy if you do that. You could cut 2 feet off, add your tippet ring, and then add 2 of tippet. That would probably work best.

They turn over just fine.
