

Subject: : Fly Fishing Locations

Topic: : outer banks

Re: outer banks

Author: : Swattie87

Date: : 2013/1/9 9:37:42

URL:

Pat - Can't help ya on the charter, but sounds like a good time, hope you round up enough guys to get your own boat. A little info on the surf though...I vacationed in Nags Head a couple times as a kid (late middle school/early high school age), I think it was in July though. Croaker/Spot were 95% of the catch, although they were present in excellent numbers...pretty much every cast. I remember a few Kingfish, small Redfish, and even a rogue Striper too. I remember the action being somewhat consistent throughout the day, as opposed to the Delaware beaches where it's more of an early morning/late evening deal. This was all in the surf with conventional spinning tackle and bait.