I'm going to fish Spring Creek tomorrow 1-9-13. I will have to let you fellas know how it goes. I know from experience that January can be a tough month to fish there.

I changed plans and now figure to fish on thursday 1-10. I think it's going to be a nicer day.

Well I fished Spring Creek today from about 11am till 145pm. It was a great day to be out. I saw about half a dozen other fisherman. They must have had the same idea I did. I checked the water temp at 1pm, it was 42 degrees. Did fairly well for January. I caught 9 , all browns. The fish of the day took a gold-bead size 14 Walt's Worm. Also caught them on small egg patterns. It was really enjoyable as this was the first time I fished in 2013. Great to be on the water.
