The time is upon us. We all gotta eat at the jam. So if you have something you like to make an hungry fisherman will eat (prolly includes just about anything) make some an bring it to the Jam.

Like last year I will post up what everyone is going to bring. There will also be a chilli cook off. I'm going to try this year to have an actual "competition" dunno how we can judge. I open to suggestions on how we can judge this. I have a Selling the van, wanna buy it or kno anyone who would be intrested?I own a resturant so if we need anything that anyone can think of to make this as easy an make cleanup as easy as possible please chime in.

The main food night will be Saturday evening. Along with the chilli competition. Keep in mind that a lot of guys will not get back to the CG till later in the evening. Prolly can start with the food around 8-9ish. And people can add dishes as they arrive back to the CG/pavilion.

Look forward to this every year. Last year was a big hit. Lets try to top it!
