

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Trout eye color

Re: Trout eye color

Author: : pcray1231

Date: : 2013/1/14 14:27:03

URL:

Sure it wasn't a different species, or injured in some way? Or maybe you're just seeing the pupil?

I briefly went through my pics and all the fish I have decent pictures of have yellowish-brown eyes. As in the iris. The pupil itself is black to a deep dark blue, depending I think mostly on the lighting and reflection.

That includes all 3 species. Some of the brookies have eyes that appear much more black throughout, like they lack an iris or something.