Stagger,

being a 7'9" Tfo, I assume you have either the 3 or 4 weight Lefty Kreh finesse series.

I have both the 7'9" #4 and the 7'3" #2. The finesse rods have a fairly slow action almost like a fiberglass rod.

My 4 weight Tfo was my go to rod for several years and I've fished it on everything from small trickles on up to the Susquehanna for bass. I've broken and repaired two guides on it and recently broke the tip. I've really been hard on my equipment the last few years. Think it's time to send it to TfO for a replacement. It really was my favorite rod. Just really like that smooth slower action.
