With a house full of kids that are into Under Armor, Xbox, Hollister, and Nike; I'm always looking to save a buck.

I know you get what your pay for on the big stuff, but I think I can cut some costs in some areas.

Here's a homemade strike indicator I made from closed cell foam earplugs from work and one of my daughters bobby pins.

I tried it today in the creek behind my shop during lunch. Worked nice.
