

Subject: : Print, Video, Audio Discussions

Topic: : Fly Fishing through Midlife Crisis

Re: Fly Fishing through Midlife Crisis

Author: : FrequentTyer

Date: : 2013/1/18 22:39:28

URL:

Quote:

Tups wrote:I realized that I did not care much for the writer. His writing style reflected his persona I fear; too much adolescent-level self-indulgence.

That's funny. I thought exactly the same thing. I managed to get through the book, bur in the end I was only glad I bought it used for $0.50. I agree with Jake that there was some interesting stuff in there, but it didn't make up for the whining.

There is another author named W.D. Wetherell that writes similar stuff, but for some reason I find him more interesting and tolerable. If you get a chance to pick up his "Yellowstone Autumn" it is a good read. Fishing through Yellowstone on your 50th birthday seems like a reasonable thing to do.

Mike.