You can keep the higher in the column or off the bottom by sliding the shot up the leader . The shot will ride and bounce the bottom and the egg will try to float and bob 6-8" from the bottom. Only trouble is you won't detect the hit immediately until the hit tranfers through the shot to the leader. But its that way with most nymphing.

Dead drift under an indicator mending line to not allow the indicator to experience drag, indicator hesitates, set hook.
