FWIW - i define sea run as a fish that spends at least 12 months or more at sea like a Salmon/Grilse and Sea Trout/Peel/Sewin or Steelhead Trout.

interesting stuff Sandfly - i have heard of rivers in Europe where the fish hunker down in deep holes during the summer days and hunt at night.

its the same up in Maine - no-one targets them at night and they bitch that they can't catch em. that's cos they're nocturnal. duh.

we don't even cast to them until an hour after full dark, otherwise you put them down for the whole night or they'll move on.
