I enjoyed both the book and the movie, for different reasons. The book, in my opinion, is a masterpiece. In the movie, a beautiful story was told over 2+ hours. What many people don't realize is the book is only around 100 pages long, maybe less. You can read it in a couple of hours. I read the book in about 90 minutes while sitting in the ER with a broken ankle, waiting to be seen. Maclean has a tremendous ability to tell a story using simple, direct language. That's an art that is lost on many authors today (not just sporting authors, but all novelists).

If you haven't read it yet, grab a copy and give it a go. It's really amazing.
