I agree with the above posts. Using Mr. Murphy's code of ethics would pretty much deem it unethical to fish many or most of the small brookie streams and the headwaters of some of the larger streams.

IMHO, it may be more unethical, in some cases, to fish for larger fish such as the breeder smallmouth bass which remain in the struggling lower Susky River. I don't think we are there yet in the Susky, but we seem to be getting closer to that point. Sad.
