- Downsides duly noted and agreed. I dont want to be in that situation.
- Gluing is def a hit or miss. Especially if you don't know what your doing.
- Used boots are a good way to go. 9.5 if anyone's selling.
- I'm keeping an eye on ebay and the discount gear sites.

Which reminds me of something I came across today, and you'll have to for give me for a slight change in topic:

My wife has committed to getting me a pair of waders for my birthday to replace the cheapoes I got to try out FF. I just need to tell her which ones to get. I'm looking at all the <$100 varieties.

Cabelas, LLBean (recommended by a PAFF guy due to the warranty), Hodgeman and a few used high end names on ebay.

I came across this today:

Looks good. Reviews are good. Any comments?
