

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : From the minnow chaser thread - An ethics lesson

Re: From the minnow chaser thread - An ethics lesson

Author: : dc410

Date: : 2013/1/20 16:24:41

URL:

The majority of the native brookies I caught last year were on a fly tied on a Mustad #79580 size 12, which is a 4xl streamer hook, on a pattern that I have adopted as my "go to" brookie fly. (Not a wooly bugger)
Unfortunately the two 3" fish I caught last year were also caught on this fly. 🙄 The good thing is they were both safely released and if they continue to have that kind of appetite they may possibly be a 5 or 6 incher when I catch them next year. I will continue this process until they die of old age or a great blue heron gets them. 😁