When are you going? In the summer, the lower Penobscot is a great smallie river upstream from Bangor through Orono, Old Town, Milford and above. Lotsa SMBs in the mid teens with an occasional bigger one. It's really not too far of a drive from Bar Harbor, if that's where your staying.

A 5wt would be on the light side. A 6 or 7 would be my rod choice. Typical flies - buggers, streamers, poppers, sliders. etc.

You can easily fish on your own and catch fish. If you are looking for a drift boat trip and would like a guide, I can recommend Kevin Tracewski. He is a professor at the U of Maine and he wrote "The Fisherman's Guide to Maine" guidebook.

He's really a great guy and a great teacher if your wife or you would like to gain more knowledge and skills. Here is a link to his site: <http://fishguideme.com/>

Congrats and good luck!
