Thanks for the info guys!!! This our plan we have a float trip planned for a fly in that's guided I think that's on a lake and we have a half day guided river trip planned as well we are heading up there the last week of June and gonna be there till the second of July. Moosehead lodge on moose head lake is where we are staying and from what we read we are after lake trout salmon and steelhead... They also say the equipment is included but I know we are gonna want to venture out on our own at least one or two evenings or mornings that week... All this info is helping decide what to bring as far as rods, flies I was gonna attempt to tie a few but I know I'll end up buying a few as well while up there!!!its already budgeted lol
