Hello Everyone,

I'm new to the site and to the forum and am looking for some advise.

A couple years ago my husband decided to take up fly fishing and I attempted to sign him up for classes/instruction at Keystone College. They cancelled the class.

I would like to sign him up for classes/instruction and a day away with "the guys" to relax but I can't seem to find anything in the area of Scranton and surrounding for a reasonable amount of money.

Could someone please let me know what/where to look into such a class and who to stay away from.

Thanks all!
